- Provide the necessary resources to complement support of military members, veterans, and their Families.
- Work collaboratively to develop and promote outreach events, designed to meet the needs of our military members, veterans, and their families.*

Family Support Principles

1. Staff and families work together in relationships based on equality and respect.
2. Staff enhances families' capacity to support the growth and development of all family members – adults, youth, and children.
3. Families are resources to their own members, to other families, to programs, and to communities.
4. Programs affirm and strengthen families’ cultural, racial, and linguistic identities and enhance their ability to function in a multicultural society.
5. Programs are embedded in their communities and contribute to the community-building process.
6. Programs advocate with families for services and systems that are fair, responsive, and accountable to the families served.
7. Practitioners work together with families to mobilize formal and informal resources to support family development.
8. Programs are flexible and continually responsive to emerging family and community issues.

The Strengthening Families’ Five Protective Factors

- Parent Resilience
- Social Connections

Code of Ethics

1. Collaboration is an art. The people involved are pursuing social justice, a change in the balance of power, and an opportunity to bring the community together. As a collaborative we are engaged in difficult dialogues and competing ideas about ways to move forward. This requires compassionate and visionary leadership, talented listeners, and passionate people.

Last Revision: 11.1.14
2. SDMFC is a community collaborative committed to making positive change in partnership with San Diego County military families. In doing so, we will face ethical dilemmas. The following Code of Ethics is intended to provide SDMFC members with guidance for decision-making in the event of a confusing situation.

3. The Code of Ethics recognizes diversity and emphasizes fair decision-making.

4. Principles of the Code:
   - Listen. Listen to each other and to community members, actively and attentively, with the purpose of understanding and learning.
   - Be Inclusive. As we collaborate, we must remember those who are left out. We have a special concern for those who are least empowered in our community, and we work to give them a voice.
   - Be Compassionate. We will show sympathy and empathy for all our community members’ needs. We strive to create a safe space for ideas to emerge by embracing our limitations and differences.
   - Be Resourceful. Our community is rich in resources including cultural experience, professional knowledge, and ideas. We will use all our means to benefit the community.
   - Be Courageous. We will stand up for what is right for our community. We will be fair and work to correct injustices even when it is difficult.
   - Be Trustworthy. Be trustworthy, honest, forthright, accountable, and transparent.
   - Be Self-Aware. We will reflect on our own biases and leadership privileges when making decisions on behalf of the community.
   - Work Hard. Our work requires a long-term commitment. We volunteer our time, talents, and energy to serving our community. We are passionate about our work and commit to giving our all.

Conflict of Interest

1. A conflict of interest exists whenever a member of the SDMFC, its staff, or the Coordinating Council, is in a position to exploit a decision for direct or indirect personal gain, an example of which would be guiding resources such as, but not limited to, money or contracts to themselves, a family member, a business interests, an organization, or some other personal interest.

2. No member of the Coordinating Council or SDMFC shall participate in any discussion or vote on any matter in which he or she, or a member of his or her immediate family, or organizations he or she represents, has a potential conflict of interest due to having a possible economic gain from the matter being discussed or decided upon.

3. When such a situation presents itself, the person must announce his or her potential conflict, disqualify himself or herself, and be excused from the meeting until discussion is over on the matter involved. The Chairpersons of the meeting are expected to make an inquiry if such a conflict appears to exist and the member has not made it known.

Functional Structure

A Community – Engagement Governance model serves as a key value and factor in Collaborative success. The Collaborative is a movement of multiple layers of stakeholders working and being brought together for shared decision making. In this model, governance is not hierarchical and therefore serves as a function, not a structure. The intent, therefore, is for “decision making and thus power, to be redistributed and shared, creating joint ownership, empowerment, and mutual accountability.” (Pg 3. Freiwirth, 2011) Members participate and have a voice as equals, regardless of position, title, military rank, parent or provider.

Membership engagement occurs along five levels of collaborative participation:

CONSENSUS DECISION-MAKING

What is Consensus?
Consensus is a process for group decision-making. It is a method by which an entire group of people can come to an agreement. The input and ideas of all participants are gathered and synthesized to arrive at a final decision acceptable to all. Consensus is based on the principle that every voice is worth hearing, every concern is justified. If a proposal makes a few people, even one person, deeply unhappy - then there is a valid reason for that unhappiness, and if we ignore it, we are likely to make a mistake. Consensus does not mean that everyone thinks that the decision made is necessarily the best one possible, or even that they are sure it will work.

What it does mean is that in coming to that decision, no one felt that her/his position on the matter was misunderstood or that it wasn't given a proper hearing. Ideally, everyone will think it is the best decision; this often happens because, when it works, collective intelligence does come up with better solutions than individuals.

ADVOCACY GUIDELINES

I. Criteria for taking a position
• Does this (issue/initiative/program/regulation/statute) have a positive or negative impact on our mission?
• Does this (issue/initiative/program/regulation/statute) pose a clear and present benefit/threat to children, youth and families?

II. Process for determining position
• Any SDMFC Partner may bring an issue for consideration.
• All Partners of the SDMFC will be notified, via e-mail, that an issue has been brought forward and a position is being determined in accordance with the advocacy guidelines.
• The SDMFC Coordinating Council reviews issue/initiative/program/regulation/statute.
• The Coordinating Council prepares a position paper outlining pros and cons associated with taking a position. Materials/information partners wish to have considered/included in the position paper may be presented at the Core Team meeting when this matter is discussed.
• Unless the Coordinating Council is due to meet in a timely period, the Co-Chairs will review the position paper and determine the position the SDMFC will take based on the support of the majority of CC representatives.
• If the Coordinating Council can’t reach agreement, no formal position will be taken. The Coordinating Council may still share balanced, educational information on the issue/policy, if applicable.
• The decision will then be communicated immediately to all SDMFC Partners, via e-mail.

III. Position Options
• No Position
• Watch (Monitor)
• Position to Support or Oppose:
  Level 1: Take a formal position to support/oppose.
  Level 2: Communicate SDMFC’s support/oppose position in writing.
  Level 3: Staff and/or others actively indicate support/opposition through letters, phone calls, personal visits and/or testimony before a governing body.
  Level 4: Activate grassroots advocacy network.

IV. Action Option Goals
• Impact a decision.
• Shape the course of action.
• Initiate or partner with others.

V. Guidelines
• The SDMFC will neither support nor oppose candidates.
• It is understood that the position and resultant action is based on the mission and strategic plan of the SDMFC, and not any one organization or individual.
