Housing Discrimination Tester

Center for Social Advocacy (CSA) is a non-profit agency that among other things investigates allegations of housing discrimination. CSA has various ways of conducting investigations, the primary being testing, which involves sending testers posing as prospective tenants to the site where discrimination is alleged.

Testers play a vital role in assuring equal housing opportunities for all persons regardless of race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, marital status, gender, sexual orientation, source of income, familial status and disability.

People of all profiles and backgrounds are encouraged to participate.
